

Scan Display targets international market in London

Issued by Scan Display

11 Jul 2007

South African exhibition and display company, Scan Display Solutions, exhibited at Exhibiting Show at Earls Court, London for the first time this year.

Scan's show-stopping stand was almost five metres high and included a two-metre diameter, branded balloon. The stand was made from United Aluminium's Unibox system and stand staff handed out boxes of popcorn to hungry passers-by.

Scan's exhibiting objective was to promote itself to agencies and stand builders looking for a partner to build exhibition stands and displays in Southern Africa. The show was a great success with Scan forming a number of new, key relationships.
