

Industrial research for Rival

Rival Industrial has been selected to once again conduct market research for a South African industrial company in the valves and pumps sector. The research is aimed at identifying the size of potential new markets and will involve telephonic and face-to-face interviews.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>