

Liberty Radio Awards calls for votes for best radio

The Liberty Radio Awards is calling on listeners to help decide a winner for its My Station category by voting for their favourite radio station.

A panel of radio and media specialists are currently reviewing the radio station entries.

The My Station category is broken down into two sections: The station that simply generates the most votes overall and the station that has the most loyal listeners - this is the station that generates the most votes based on the size of their audience.
