

Skills grants for small firms

According to Sharon Bradshaw of SETA (Sectors' Education and Training Authority), companies in the media, advertising, publishing and packaging industries with fewer than 50 employees will be able to benefit from a skills development cash grant. She says that they could either be refunded the cost of skills development courses or 60% of the skills levy paid to the Receiver of Revenue.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>