

Boeing's marketing pitch goes wrong

A product demonstration for Boeing's 777-200 had to be grounded recently when the engine went into auto shutdown. Boeing is pitched against Europe's Airbus for an SAA order of long-haul aircraft worth $1.5 billion. Both companies are keen for fresh orders following the industry downturn after the September 11th terror attacks.

Source: Sunday Times

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>