

Africa Architecture Awards shortlist announced

Founded by Saint-Gobain, a total of 307 projects from across 32 African countries completed the registration process and qualified to enter the inaugural Africa Architecture Awards. A shortlist of 20 projects has been announced, with the awards ceremony to be held on 28 September.

“The Africa Architecture Awards has been established to highlight the continent’s innovative and collaborative style of solving problems – architectural or otherwise. Saint-Gobain has engaged with some of the best minds in the field to establish this programme, so that the awards are relevant, contextual and progressive. We are more than thrilled to see the response that the competition has received to date,” said Evan Lockhart-Barker, MD of the Saint-Gobain Retail Business Development Initiative.

The trophy winners in each of the four entry categories and the overall grand prize will be announced at a gala awards ceremony to be held at the newly opened Zeitz Museum of Contemporary Art Africa (Zeitz MOCAA) in Cape Town.

Following the awards ceremony, a public colloquium titled 'Celebrating Architecture in Africa' will be held to discuss the winning projects and explain why they were chosen. This event will take place on 29 September 2017 at the Institute for Creative Arts at UCT Hiddingh Campus in Cape Town from 9am. Participants include members of the steering panel and master jury for the Africa Architecture Awards.
