

Oju Africa launches 15 Afro emoticons

Subsidiary of African mobile manufacturer Mi-Fone, Oju Africa has introduced what is said to be the first offering of Afro emoticons, reports Screen Africa.

Image source: Screen Africa

click to enlarge

According to the report, the emoticons have been designed for use on Android platforms, and will be available on iOS after its official release.

Alpesh Patel, CEO of Oju Africa and Group CEO of Mi-Group International Ltd says: "We had a dream of digitally uniting Africa, liberating Africans from digital exclusion. And with the launch of the Oju Africa Afro emoticons we are sharing African soul, funk and unparalleled smiles with the world.

For more:

- Screen Africa: Oju Africa introduces the world to Afro emoticons...

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>