

CMO Council Marketing Outlook 2009 survey

The Chief Marketing Officer (CMO) Council is inviting participants to contribute their input on the strategies, plans and actions being taken to ride out the recession and dump the depression.

In order to participate, the 15 minutes Marketing Outlook 2009 online survey must be completed.

All participants will receive a copy of the full research report, valued at $199, the results of which are deemed to be extremely valuable to those seeking peer-level input and consensus on critical issues and priorities in globally constrained markets.

For more on the CMO Council, visit their press office.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>