

New Africa Analysis* launches in SA; seeks editor

New Africa Analysis, reputedly the first international magazine of its kind in South Africa focusing on progress in Africa, will launch in early October - and is seeking to appoint an editor.

click to enlarge

Currently published and distributed in the UK and Europe, the title focuses on progress that is backed by a strong anti-corruption agenda, good governance and accountability.

New Africa Analysis is currently seeking a South African-based editor for the soon-to-be published SA edition, which will be published bi-weekly.

Applicants need to demonstrate a comprehensive understanding and interest in African affairs. The successful applicant will also have a degree in journalism or similar / relevant qualifications.

For further information go to www.newafricaanalysis.co.uk.