7 Jun 2017

Africa Business Venture, the platform facilitating business across the continent, organises this online summit on Africa construction from 3-5 July.

Supported by organisations such as UN and the Cote d'Ivoire Chamber of Commerce, the summit guarantees extraordinary networking, business opportunities and learnings.

The must-attend Africa online construction summit brings together Africa's top experts to provide case studies, conferences, courses and most importantly quality networking.

It is designed to empower companies to make business in Africa on this specific field. The event is essential to discover the latest business opportunities in construction and infrastructure on some of the main African hubs, like South Africa, Uganda, Cote d'Ivoire, Mozambique, Angola and many more.

The organiser company's, Africa Business Venture, mission is unlocking African potential - This is the reason for the business enabler platform, supported by the UN and the Cote d'Ivoire Chamber of Commerce, deciding to host this online summit on Africa construction from 3-5 July.

The online channel will grant access from anywhere in the world to any companies willing to participate, independently of their country of base, linked by the common ground of interest on making business in Africa.

The summit facilitates direct access to the latest opportunities on the construction and infrastructure sectors in Africa, extraordinary networking with relevant experts and established companies, business and extensive learnings for both companies and amateurs on the field, at a little cost of $50 for early birds.
