

Rosond appoints geotechnical project coordinator to oversee new projects

Danielle Potgieter has been appointed as a geotechnical project coordinator by Rosond of Midrand, a provider of technology solutions. She has experience as an environmental assessment practitioner and geotechnical scientist. She holds a BSc (Hons) degree in environmental monitoring and modelling from the University of South Africa and a BSc geology degree from the University of Pretoria.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>