

Old school advertising

There is a billboard on the corner of Rivonia and Katherine streets for a strip club touting it as a great business lunch venue. Isn't it time we acknowledged that strip clubs aren't places to conduct business - but are rather entertainment venues?

Billboard on the corner of Rivonia and Katherine Streets for a strip club touting it as a great business lunch venue. isn't it time we acknowledged that strip clubs aren't places to conduct business - but are rather entertainment venues?

no problem with them existing - but frankly a backdrop of tits and ass to high commerce, in which an increasing number of women are becoming players is a tad tacky. sends a pretty clear message that business is for the old boys club.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>