

Paarl workers to lose jobs

NEWSWATCH: In April, a number of workers at Paarl Print died in a devastating fire, now the company is to retrench more workers, reports IOL, and in an attempt to avoid any backlash of the sort that followed the sale of Vodacom shares to Vodafone, ICASA has announced that it will open the proposed sale of Telkom Media to a Chinese-led consortium to public discussion, reports Business Report.

For more:

- IOL: Another blow for Paarl Print workers... The company will not require as many workers to operate new machinery, so...
- IOL: Public can speak on Telkom Media sale... The Independent Communications Authority of SA (ICASA) has yet to decide, however, whether it will hold public hearings on the issue, but it appears that thus far, interested parties will be given the opportunity to comment on the issue.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>