

Tiens Group launches state-of-the-art healthcare centre in China

World-class health and wellness facilities now on offer for South Africans who frequently visit the country.

Top-of-the-line equipment.

On 20 October 2010, the Tiens Group will be launching the Tai Ji Sun Health Management Centre in China. South Africans who travel to the country on a frequent basis, such as government officials and business executives, will be able to take full advantage of the benefits on offer at the centre.

The close business and political ties between South Africa and China make the country a highly popular and necessary destination for many high-powered South Africans.

"Tai Ji Sun is an ideal health institution that combines wellness and leisure," explains Kevin Hou, vice president of Tiens Africa region. "We invite our South African counterparts to visit and explore the remarkable facilities which are on offer at the centre."

Boasting first-class facilities

The Tai Ji Sun Health Management Centre is situated in the Tiens International Health Industrial Park, China. It boasts cutting-edge technologies, service methods and an expertly trained team, as well as first-class matching facilities. These include: an International Conference Centre which may house up to 7000; an International Banquet Hall which can entertain more than 3000 guests; and Hot Spring Hotels with a Four, Five and Seven Star Standard. The hotel portfolio offers more than 4600 beds and a "Hua Tang" hotel that receives nine Presidential and more than 90 Minister VIPs simultaneously.

High Field superconducting Open Magnetic Resonance Imaging System

In addition, the centre offers a Green House Botanical Garden, a Luxury Yacht Club and Fishing Bay (these are currently under construction). The 34°C mineral-rich spring water, from 2800m underground, provides many mineral resources for its hydrotherapy centre.

Medical equipment

Catering to the needs of a demanding niche market, Tai Ji Sun has introduced many of the most sophisticated medical equipment such as Positron Emission Tomography (FDG-PET) Scan, High Frequency Beep Pager Alarmer Detective System and Fully Automated ELISA (Enzyme-linked immunosorbent assay). In addition, the Tai Ji Sun Healthcare Management Centre has a professional and experienced team that consists of 19 academics from the Chinese Academy of Engineering and nine Chinese Traditional Medicine experts. The centre is staying abreast with the world's best practices by having in their team many internationally-known health experts from the USA, UK, Germany, Japan, Korea and Taiwan. The centre also has a strategic relationship with many leading healthcare organizations.

"The Tiens Group is a multinational conglomerate in the fields of bio-tech, education, retail, tourism, finance, international trade and e-business," says Hou. "As a result, we are well-positioned to offer one of the globe's leading health centres, which is unrivalled in the quality of equipment and service it provides."

The diversified products developed by Tiens Group include health food, healthcare appliances, skin care applications and household products. These products are available to South African's at any Tiens store.

"The rapid growth of the Chinese economy expedites the emergence of an enormous amount of up-market customers," explains Tiens group president Li Jinyuan. "This specific niche market is more health conscious than the general population, and expects higher quality healthcare services."

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>