

New kitchen for Lula Isandla

Sony Ericsson joined Lula Isandla 'Reach Out' charity in Mpophomeni to officially open their brand new kitchen. Lula Isandla aims to support and feed children who have been left without parents due to HIV/AIDS, alcohol and drug addiction or basic abandonment every day.

Sony Ericsson made a donation to the Lula Isandla project to assist with the development of the kitchen to be able to feed the kids from the community with healthy, nutritious weekday lunches. The idea for Sony Ericsson's involvement and contribution to create long term sustainable facility that will be able to cater for other children in the community in years to come.

"This is an initiative that we hold very close to our hearts and we are delighted to be able to help with a sustainable contribution," says Colin Williamson, marketing manager for Sony Ericsson South Africa.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>