The Cloud and Virtualisation Africa Summit will take place from 10 to 11 October 2012 at the Hilton Hotel Sandton in Johannesburg, South Africa. The summit is produced by international business-to-business conferencing company Kinetic Events and offers innovative resources, ideas and best practice case studies enabling your enterprise to apply them immediately in order to leverage the cloud, assisting you in maximising performance, minimising costs and improving the scale of your projects.

Malcolm MacDonald, CIO of I-Net Bridge is set to attend and speak at the anticipated 3rd annual Cloud and Virtualisation Africa Summit, Kinetic Events confirmed.

Malcolm has extensive experience in investment banking activities and processes. His areas of expertise include IT strategy definition, business IT alignment, score carding, monitoring and management, process modeling, systems architecture, software factory design, frameworks and governance. Malcolm is set to lead a topical discussion during this year's summit.

The summit will allow senior executives to discover appropriate levels of enterprise cloud computing engagement, and how they can be deployed alongside existing static deployments of hardware and software. Share experiences with internationally renowned guests and industry experts, providing invaluable opportunities to discover next-generation transformations from a cutting edge conference agenda addressing critical industry cloud computing, virtualisation and enterprise-related issues.
