Carol Weaving, MD of Reed Exhibitions, says, “We expect many new businesses will launch as a result of participation in the #BuyaBusiness and Small Business Expo. Thanks to the active brokering of business relationships, extensive knowledge-sharing and networking, as well as access to hundreds of franchise and business opportunities, we usually see several new businesses and franchises launching as a result of deals concluded and leads generated during the event.”

Aspirant business owners can discover opportunities, attend workshops on business ownership and speak to business support services and financiers about how to go about getting a business up and running. For more information, go to www.buyabusinessexpo.co.za.
