

ARRCC scoops Interior Design Firm of the Year in global competition

South African interior architecture, interior design and décor studio ARRCC has been awarded Interior Design Firm of the Year - South Africa, in the Luxury Travel Guide Global Awards 2020.

The Luxury Travel Awards (LTG) which recognises excellence across all sectors of the affluent travel and tourism industry. LTG's professional team, along with industry experts and readers, put forward a selection of firms who they believe have shown excellence in their work. All nominees are subject to rigorous assessment criteria, carried out by in-house professionals, who ultimately decide on the winning firms.

"We are extremely honoured to have received this prestigious award. We have been focusing on applying our in-depth knowledge of luxury design to the hospitality sector, with many new and exciting projects on the cards for the near future," said ARRCC director Jon Case.

"We are honoured to have our work recognised at this level and to represent and showcase what African talent and designers have to offer the luxury international hospitality industry," added director Mark Rielly.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>