

Devmark launches property management division

Devmark Property Group has launched a new property management division within the group. Its portfolio includes management of sectional title housing schemes, affordable housing, retail shopping centres, body corporates, commercial properties, light industrial properties and residential homes.

L-R: Managing director Heinrich Ehlers, and founder and director Chanet Muller of Devmark Property Management

Says MD Heinrich Ehlers: “Devmark Property Management’s team has successfully managed the property portfolio for the Devmark Property Group for the past 25 years, and as a group we decided to widen the net and share our wealth of knowledge and expertise with other property owners and the broader property community.”

Chanet Muller, founder and director of Devmark Property Management adds that it has just signed a service-level agreement (SLA) with a social housing scheme for the management of over 500 residential units. “We also have an exciting mixed-use development of over 35,000m² in Malmesbury on the cards and look forward to growing the business.”

Devmark Property Management will continue to provide services to the group as well as to outside property owners, body corporates and home owner associations.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>