Subscribers of DStv Access now have the opportunity to enjoy their favourite and world-renowned TV shows from Bet Africa (channel 129), as the channel will be included in the bouquet. This move will also mean audiences on the DStv Access package will join Premium and Compact package viewers in experiencing the best of Bet Africa programming.

"This move is one of the many ways Paramount Africa aims to provide access to authentic African stories and fresh local and international content. We also aim to reach as many diverse audiences as possible, and this will increase the number of eyeballs on our original and exclusive content. We are thrilled to include DStv Access viewers in the premiere of our biggest and best original daily drama yet!" said Monde Twala, senior vice president and general manager Paramount Africa and Peer Lead, Bet International.

"Every South African needs to watch this." Critics rave about Steinheist docc

Redemption is Bet Africa's biggest production of the year, crafted by two local, critically acclaimed South African production companies, Seriti and Burnt Onion.

The drama series boasts an impressive cast to push the envelope on a relevant and controversial topic affecting many Africans today. It's a story about the one social group that is the building block of African society, which is family. The cast includes beloved South African stars including Africa Movie Academy Award winner, Tina Jaxa, who plays the pastor's devout wife - Evelyn Zikode - a classic matriarch who guards her nest like a hawk.
