

Caxton upgrades printing equipment

The main production plant for the Caxton Newspaper group in Johannesburg has installed new Baranschee plate punching and bending equipment, supplied locally by Antalis, to handle plates for its MAN Roland Uniset newspaper web press. A second system has also been added to the existing Baranschee equipment as a means of streamlining the workflow and to offer a back-up for the Media Man presses.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>